

ELEGANT RESORTS RECEIVE GENEROSITY AWARD FOR THEIR SUPPORT TOWARDS HURRICANE-STRICKEN BVI'S

Elegant Resorts is thrilled to have won a special award for their "outstanding kindness, support and contribution" towards the British Virgin Islands over the past year.

The dedicated team donated clothes and supported fundraising events in both Chester and London, to show their support to the islands following the devastating Hurricane Irma, which tore through the Caribbean last September. One year later, the Herculean efforts put forth by the local community, international volunteers and the BVI government have paid off. The beaches have been cleaned up, roads cleared, and visitors are flocking into the territory once again.

"The clothes we donated after the hurricane and being such a caring team has paid off, and we are delighted to have been given such a meaningful award. Special thanks go to Ian James for giving up a day last year to drive all the clothes we collected to BVI House in London, and to Jonathan Bellamy for taking the time to support the events in London and delivering cakes to the team at BVI House, in their hour of need. It just shows that small gestures can go a long way."

The hurricane season that caused serious devastation to much of the Caribbean may not be forgotten, but the island is certainly moving on and is firmly back in business. Sir Richard Branson's personal hideaway Necker Island, as well as Valley Trunk in Virgin Gorda, are all opening by the end of the year. Crystal-clear waters, picture-perfect beaches and well-equipped marinas make the British Virgin Islands the perfect place to sail by yacht. We can charter a variety of yachts with Dream Yacht Charter, to help create incredible memories.
